AMBITIONS & LIFE PURPOSE

(Excerpt from Paul's Eagle Scout Application)

“At the beginning of practically every school year, teachers hand out information forms. Contact information, likes and dislikes, etc. They also often include the question “what are some of the traits someone might describe you with?” or something along that line. While writing one of these a few years ago, I found myself writing “trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly...” not intentionally, but naturally. Part way through, I realized what I was doing and that brought the realization that I had truly become a Scout to my core. I know that I will hold on to these values for the rest of my life. They will stay as my guiding principles, and my first mental go-to in decisions. Upon earning my Eagle rank, I will have completed the main ambition of my youth. Since becoming a Tiger Cub in Pack 82, I have strived to become an Eagle. For the future in scouting I hope to become more involved with the Order of the Arrow as well as continuing to instruct current and future leaders in Troop 82. I hope to be able to pass on the knowledge that I have learned to my fellow scouts. I hope to be able to continue using my scout training outside of scouting to help better my community and organizations.”

EAGLE PROJECT:
ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL
MARCHING BAND UNIFORM STORAGE

Paul's Eagle Project centered on improving the uniform and equipment storage for the Arlington High School Marching Band. The marching band competes from September into November and the 2012 Season marked the introduction of new uniforms for the 150+ member band. Previously the uniforms were stored on single racks that were large, wasted space and in need of replacement. Paul's project was to design and construct new uniform racks, paint the storage room and to construct a larger, more durable set of shelves.

During the project Paul solicited input from the marching band director, met with a local welder (and former band parent) on the design to identify any concerns, purchased supplies and materials, coordinated the uniform rack construction, room painting and shelf construction.

The new racks nest with each other when not in use, dramatically increasing space within the storage room, and have dual storage bars to maximize storage capacity.
